Business Process Standards:

Army_Assignment_Incentive_Pay_for_Accession_Computation_11_047_07

The military payroll system shall compute Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Amount for the pay period as follows:

1. Determine the Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession monthly rate for each computation segment
2. Determine the Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession daily rate for each computation segment (1/30th of monthly rate)
3. Determine the number of day's payable for each computation segment (based on tour pay type OR number of drill periods).
4. Compute the amount due for each computation segment (days payable X daily rate)
5. Total all computation segments within the pay period

To support auditability, the military payroll system shall maintain a pay history by pay period showing Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession payroll computation factors and results as follows:

1. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Amount - The total amount computed for a specific pay, allowance, debt, deduction, allotment, tax, etc. for the pay period
2. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Begin Date - The start date used to determine the member's eligibility for (1) pay, allowances, bonuses, debts and deductions, or (2) the member's election for tax withholding, allotments, addresses, EFT, etc.
3. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession End Date - The end date used to determine the member's eligibility for (1) pay, allowances, bonuses, debts and deductions, or (2) the member's election for tax withholding, allotments, TSP, mailing addresses, EFT, etc.
4. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Segment Amount - The amount computed for a specific computation segment within a pay period . Computation segments are created when there's a change in monthly rates, computation factors or eligibility rules and the beginning and ending dates do not coincide with the pay period's beginning and ending dates
5. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Segment Begin Date - The start date used to determine the member's eligibility for (1) pay, allowances, bonuses, debts and deductions, or (2) the member's election for tax withholding, TSP and allotments used for payroll computation segments within a specific pay period. A computation segment is created when the beginning and ending dates for the computation factors (i.e., grade, location, tour pay type, duty status, eligibility, pay rates, deduction rates, etc.) do not coincide with the pay period's beginning and ending dates.
6. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Segment End Date - The end date used to determine the member's eligibility for (1) pay, allowances, bonuses, debts and deductions, or (2) the member's election for tax withholding, TSP and allotments used for payroll computation segments within a specific pay period. A computation segment is created when the beginning and ending dates for the computation factors (i.e., grade, location, tour pay type, duty status, eligibility, pay rates, deduction rates, etc.) do not coincide with the pay period's beginning and ending dates.
7. Duty Status - Member Duty Status captures the state of a DoD Military Service member relevant to his or her availability for duty; (i.e. confinement, separated, deceased, Unauthorized Absence, desertion, excess leave, etc.). The member's duty status is used with the Tour Pay Type to determine if the member is authorized pay and allowances for such duty status and the number of days payable
8. Number of Drill Periods - The total of drill periods served for an inactive duty tour. A member cannot qualify for pay for more than two periods of inactive duty training during a single calendar day.
9. Payroll Calendar Date - Used to identify the pay period the entitlement or deduction was computed to determine the member's gross or net pay for the pay period. For example: BAH With Dependent Rate is processed on April 29, 2011 with effective date April 25, 2011. The transaction was input after the cutoff date for the end-of-month April 2011 pay period; therefore, monies were computed in the mid-month May 2011 pay period. The Payroll Calendar Date is May 15, 2011. Note: Any date can be used as long as the date is unique and identifies a specific pay period. In this example, May 15, 2011 is used to identify the mid-month May 2011 pay period (May 1, 2011 to May 15, 2011) and May 31, 2011 is used to identify the end-of-month May 2011 pay period (May 16, 2011 to May 31, 2011).
10. Tour Pay Type - The tour pay type in conjunction with the member's Duty Status used to determine the number of days the military member is authorized pay and allowances for the tour period and if the member is due pay and/allowance during a tour period

To support payroll computation, the military payroll system shall maintain an Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession rate table as follows:

1. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Monthly Rate - The daily, monthly or annual rate for a specific earning. The rate is used to compute the amount payable for the pay period based on eligibility dates, contract dates, tour pay type, duty status and the number of days in the pay period.
2. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Monthly Rate Begin Date - The first day the daily, monthly or annual rate for a specific earnings if effective or authorized. The begin date changes based on legislation and annual pay raises and is used to determine the rate of pay used when computing the amount payable for current month and retroactive pay changes.
3. Army Assignment Incentive Pay for Accession Monthly Rate End Date - The last day the daily, monthly or annual rate for a specific earnings if effective or authorized. The end date changes based on legislation and annual pay raises and is used to determine the rate of pay used when computing the amount payable for current month and retroactive pay changes.

Fiscal Year Authorized Paid Drills Quantity

Fiscal Year Authorized Paid Drills Quantity is the total number of paid inactive duty training (IDT) periods authorized for a DoD Military Service member within a fiscal year.

CHRIS Usage:

Fiscal Year Authorized Paid Drills Quantity is a numeric value manually recorded by an HR Specialist upon approval by the Unit Commander. An authorized drill period (normally four hours equals one drill period) indicates that funding has been approved for that period. The DoD Military Service member is entitled to drill pay for each authorized drill period the DoD Military Service member performs. The DoD Military Service member may participate in unpaid drill periods in addition to those periods that have approved funding.

Permitted Values:

NA

Structural Business Rules:

Authorized Paid Drills Fiscal Year is recorded by an HR Specialist upon approval by the Unit Commander.

Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Amount

Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Amount is the dollar amount of an assignment incentive pay (AIP) paid to a DoD Military Service member based on a specific type of AIP.

CHRIS Usage:

Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Amount is used to document the dollar amount of an assignment incentive pay (AIP) paid to a DoD Military Service member based on a specific type of AIP.

Permitted Values:

NA

Structural Business Rules:

A dollar amount must have at least one numeric character followed by a decimal point and two numeric characters, or when the amount is less than one, a decimal point followed by two numeric characters.

A Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Amount must have an associated Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Stop Date when eligibility for assignment incentive pay of the designated type is terminated.

A Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Amount must have an associated Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Start Date.

A Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type must have an associated Member Assignment Incentive Pay Type Amount.
